Centre d'Estudis Avançats de Blanes (CEAB-CSIC)

We are looking for a Project Manager for the LIFE RESQUE ALPYR project (2022-2026), an international conservation project dedicated to improving the conservation status of high mountain aquatic environments in the Pyrenees and the Alps. The project will continue the work carried out in two previous projects: LIFE LIMNOPIRINEUS (www.lifelimnopirineus.eu) and LIFE BIOAQUAE (www.bioaquae.eu). The tasks to be developed will be those of the project management including financial management, the coordination with the partners and the preparation and writing the executive reports of the project.

Requirements: Degree in biology, environmental sciences or biotechnology and completed Master's degree (preferably in project management). Knowledge of English and Catalan is essential, having good skills for team work, experience in writing reports and motivation to learn. Experience in managing European projects, preferably LIFE projects, will be most valuable.

Contract: The contract we offer is full-time starting after 1/3/2022 for a year extendable up to five or until the end of the project (December 2026). The job will be at the Centre for Advanced Studies of Blanes (CEAB-CSIC), with occasional trips to the project execution area.

Delivery date: Candidates should send their CV, a letter of motivation and letters of recommendation before 15/2/2022 to lifelimnopirineus@ceab.csic.es.
